The Harris Law Firm Reaches Out to the Hispanic Community

Colorado family law attorney Antonio Anduaga Bocanegra is fluent in Spanish and is currently offering his services and support as a domestic relations lawyer to Colorado's Hispanic community.

According to recent census data, Hispanics now represent more than 15% of the population in the United States, and the expansion of the Latino community has contributed to significant growth over the past decade. As more Hispanic families populate the United States, the need for Spanish speaking lawyers has increased exponentially.

Antonio aspires to increase his effectiveness as an advocate for his clients by offering a deep understanding of the religious, family, and social influences within the Hispanic culture. He seeks to help his clients facilitate resolutions that address their unique and goals by being sensitive to and aware of their Spanish traditions and beliefs in combination with social and moral stigmas. He is also adept in finding additional resources and support within the Hispanic community to assist his clients in their transition.

Mr. Anduaga is currently active in the Hispanic Bar Association, Colorado Bar Association, the Hispanic Chamber, and the Global Chamber.
